What is Invisalign?

Invisalign is a dentist driven clear, removeable, orthodontic appliance which is used to straighten teeth.

At your initial appointment we will take a digital scan of your teeth which allows us to plan and develop your smile using Invisalign digital technology called 'Clincheck'. This is customised till you are happy with the end results.

Once this process is complete we will know how many Invisalign clear aligners you will need.

Timescales

Invisalign timescales differ per patient. However, average timescales are between 9 and 12 months. Some simple cases can take around 6 months, more complex cases can take as long as 18 months. However, this will all be discussed with you prior to treatment.

The amount of clear aligners you receive will depend on the customised clincheck and the complexity of your case. Each aligner will be worn for 1 week and then changed to the next one.

You will need to wear these aligners for at least 22 hours per day, removing them only for eating and brushing your teeth.

IPR & Attachments

IPR is a part of the Invisalign process where we polish between your teeth. The amount of IPR required differs on a case by case basis.

Attachments are tooth coloured buttons which are placed onto your teeth at the beginning of your treatment and help move the teeth the correct position.

After Treatment

Following orthodontic treatment it is very important that you have retainers to hold your teeth in position. Here at Ibbott and Co we have a variety of retainers which you can choose from.

You can also whiten your teeth to brighten your smile and also have composite bonding to perfect your tooth shape, further enhancing your smile.

Testimonials

I completed my Invisalign treatment with Ibbott & Co.. 5* service all the way through, Chris and the team super professional and knowledgeable. I'd been umming and ahing about getting my teeth straightened but so pleased I did, feel so much more confident and get lots of compliments. Chris ensures everything is 100% and whilst the treatment is expensive it is 100% worth it- June 2024

Chris and his team are friendly and extremely professional. I have been very pleased with the Invisalign straightening as a means to stem future gum erosion. He has also replaced some of my ancient fillings. Chris has been hugely supportive and the practice makes use of the latest technology. Victoria is an amazing hygienist and is so helpful. Thank you to the team for such expert care- July 2024
